A Disturbance in an Apache Indian Camp.

Roosevelt, July 2.—(Special correspondence of The Republican.)—Word has been received here of the death of Miss Berdena L. Huffer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Huffer of Globe. Her death occurred Saturday evening, July 14. Death was due to organic disease of the heart, from which she had suffered several years.

The funeral was held from the family home Sunday afternoon and was largely attended by friends of the deceased. Rev. J. A. Stahler of the First M. E. church officiated and the remains were laid to rest in the Elks' cemetery.

Besides the grief-stricken parents four brothers and two sisters are left to mourn the loss of a kind and ever-loving daughter and sister.

The Huffer family moved to Globe only a short time ago, thinking that a higher altitude and more convenient surroundings might be of benefit to Miss Berdena's health.

The sad intelligence of this seemingly untimely death was a great blow to Miss Huffer's many friends here, who had known her all her life. The deceased was born at Pine, Arizona, about twenty years ago and her whole life, with the exception of one year in attendance at the Tempe Normal school, was spent in this immediate vicinity.

Berdena possessed the true spirit of "love for all with malice toward none" and the memory of her good deeds and words of kindness will be cherished forever by those who came in contact with her genial, gentle disposition for to know her was to love her.

An Apache settlement about half a mile up Tonto creek was but recently the scene of wild confusion and frenzied revelry, in which a number of fearless braves and their intrepid squaws took an active part. An over-indulgence in "ulupai" and misconstructed feminine affection seems to have been the principal reasons for creating a disturbance.

Unkind accusations, punctuated by long and heavy pulls at the brimming gourd, soon resulted in a strong determination to fight. Continued dissipation placed the whole band hors de combat, but fight they must, so practically the whole assemblage of blood-thirsty braves literally fell upon one helpless half-breed, Isaac Cutter, and immediately proceeded to do things, cut him up as it were. In the meantime an Indian boy, evidently a late arrival, as he was quite sober, threw himself upon the back of his faithful pinto pony and dashed off toward Roosevelt at breakneck speed.

In search of an officer of the law, Deputy Sheriff Samuel Bailey and Ranger Russell were found and these sturdy and gallant men of the plains lost no time in reaching the seat of disturbed tranquility, and as a matter of fact, they were none too soon, as the fallen hero was at that time somewhat the worse for wear. The arrival of these enforcers of the law quickly quelled the riot, and three of the foremost leaders were arrested, marched over the river and lodged in jail. Cutter, the unlucky Indian, received six quite severe knife wounds about the body, none of which are considered dangerous.

The following morning the three malignant peace disturbers were given a hearing before Justice J. C. Evans. Two of them were severely reprimanded for their unjust conduct and released, but the third, "S. B. 13," was taken to the Globe county jail and given plenty of time to consider and regret his evil doings.

Lieutenant W. H. Reed, forest ranger in charge here, and a small party of assistants are in the Sierra Ancha mountains for a few days.

Chas. A. Stauffer, circulating manager of the Arizona Republican, and Geo. H. Cook, the popular Phoenix jeweler, are in town for a couple of days.

Edward S. Kirkpatrick of the reclamation office force left Friday morning via Globe for a six weeks' vacation at his old home, Auburn, N. Y. Mr. Kirkpatrick was accompanied by Assistant Engineer Hugh Redmond of Livingston, who will visit his family at Syracuse, N. Y.

BURIAL OF F. J. COYLE
RITUALISTIC FUNERAL

The Widow Prostrated and Dazed by the Blow.

The funeral of Frank J. Coyle was held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock under the auspices of the Knights of Pythias, from the family residence on North Seventh avenue. The members of the A. O. U. W. lodge gathered at the house, as did the Knights, in carriages, and the Phoenix fire department turned out as an escort, together with the Pioneer band, of which Mr. Coyle was a member and the business manager.

The services were entirely ritualistic and a long procession followed the body to the grave. Three funeral marches were played on the way to the cemetery and during the burial service the band played "Cupid's Dream." The selection might seem inappropriate to a stranger, but it was chosen by reason of the fact that it was a favorite of the dead man, who had been heard to express his delight in that composition on almost any or all occasions.

The widow is prostrated with grief and was in such a condition of collapse that she was not able to go to the cemetery and in fact scarcely seemed to realize her surroundings. Her condition is not considered dangerous but the suddenness of her husband's death after a seeming marked improvement, brought with it a shock from which she has not yet fully recovered.

OF LOCAL INTEREST

A SUMMER ON THE COAST.—Mrs. James H. Creighton left last evening over the southern route for Hollywood California, where she will spend the balance of the summer. In a few weeks it is likely she will be joined by her daughter, Mrs. Shirley Christy, who will spend the summer with her. Mr. Christy is at present on the coast.

MINING MEN IN TOWN.—Mr. E. B. Gage, accompanied by W. F. Stanton and Henry M. Robinson, passed through the city yesterday en route from Tombstone to Prescott. Mr. Robinson is the secretary of the Tombstone Consolidated company and resides at Pasadena. He has been on a visit to the property. Mr. Stanton and Mr. Gage will return south in a few days while Mr. Robinson will continue his journey home from Prescott.

THE ADAMS HORSES.—The J. C. Adams horses are this week at the track at Windsor, Canada, where they have been entered in several of the events. The meeting started off well, with several of the best stables of the country represented. One of the principal events of the week will be a free-for-all pace with such stars as Hazel Patch, Nathan Strauss, Dan, R. John M., and one or two others entered. From Windsor the Adams horses will go to Cleveland where the grand circuit will be opened and the two great stakes of the year, the $100,000 and the $50,000, will be raced for.

THE HILL INQUEST.—The inquest into the circumstances of the death of H. H. Hill who committed suicide at the Denver lodging house on Monday afternoon, was concluded before Acting Coroner Burnett yesterday morning. No evidence was adduced beyond the story of the suicide told by the Republican yesterday morning, and it was found that Hill had come to his death by morphine administered by himself with suicidal intent. It had been stated that Hill was not the right name of the dead man. What his real name was is not certain, but it is believed to have been Nelson Cranz. He was known in New York as "Windy Nelson."

NEW MINING JOURNAL.—Number 1 of Volume 1 of the Arizona Mining Review, has reached The Republican's exchange table. This new publication was born in Prescott on the 21st day of July and is as clean a looking baby as ever appeared in the journalistic family circle of the territory. It is to be issued weekly and its initial number is in magazine form, on heavy book paper and is typographically attractive. It is illustrated by a number of fine pictures of Prescott as the settlement was in 1868 and as the city is today. The paper is the legitimate heir of the Prescott Stock Exchange Publishing Company, and E. C. Whalen as editor and manager is nursing it through its infancy undoubtedly to a life of usefulness and honor.
